

My message on the 20th commemoration of 9/11

Twenty years ago, war was declared on the American people, in the most barbaric and spectacular way imaginable.

The tragedy of 9/11 shocked our world to the core, changing the direction of history and transforming our way of life forever.

My thoughts are always with America and with the victims's families, first and foremost. My prayers go to them, and my heart is with America even more so at this time.

As with most milestones, the 20th anniversary of 9/11 was bound to be a moment to reflect on what has transpired since that fateful day.

Never, at the age of fourteen, could I have envisioned the dystopia in which we find ourselves twenty years later.

9/11 was the catalyst for what we see unfolding today. Our rulers exploited this tragedy in order to alter the very essence of what it means to live in a free society. As someone who deeply values the US Constitution and the achievements of the Founding Fathers, it has been incredibly distressing to see their legacy trampled, discarded and sullied.

Indeed, American Freedom and Justice, and their precious safeguards, are now on life support.

Reflecting on 9/11's aftermath and the succession of events of the last two decades, it is now abundantly clear that the "War on Terror" was never about fighting terror abroad to keep us safe. For the very people who claimed to be acting in the interest of "national security" have in fact done everything to undermine our national security.

In reality the "War on Terror" was about syphoning off America's taxpayer dollars and further gutting her middle class from within, while enriching the military-industrial complex and weakening America's standing on the world stage.

Crucially, it was also the justification to develop the mammoth national security complex that allows the tracking of anybody, at any time, and anywhere across the globe.

Now the "War on Terror 1.0" has been overtly repurposed as "War on Terror 2.0," with the entire national security apparatus - greatly enhanced since 9/11 - having been completely weaponized and turned inwards against the American people themselves, and anyone else who poses a threat to their illegitimate rule.

If we oppose their tyranny, that makes us terrorists, insurrectionists, extremists, white supremacists and conspiracy theorists. The media and tech cartels, as extensions of the apparatus, dutifully perpetuate these egregious lies to support their 'official' narrative and warrant our persecution.

America — and the world — is being run by a group of criminals, a Malthusian cult, which systematically and wilfully acts against the interests of the people it purports to serve, viewing us as the enemy of its global hegemony.

In this system, the "US government" is seen as the primary vehicle of this evil - but this is a regime, not a government. It does not reflect the will of the American people who are the first victims of these unbearable hypocrites, along with many millions more across the globe.

In the last 24 hours, with the revelation of General Milley's latest betrayal, we witnessed once more the level of treason and corruption that exists in the highest ranks of the American establishment. Regrettably, Milley is but one of many so-called American leaders who hold America and its Constitution in contempt.

In fact, Milley and his ilk do not serve America. Their loyalty is to a supranational, globalist order, which was not born in America, was not created by Americans and which Americans never wanted.

As I previously wrote in my Letter to America, the United States was drawn into this globalist scheme only after she had been infiltrated and demolished from within. The American people are being dragged, against their will, into a New World Order, achieved through a Great Reset.

To conclude, I would like to repeat the words of President Trump, who said, "The future does not belong to Globalists. The future belongs to Patriots."

This regime is bound to fail in the face of all they seek to destroy but cannot: love of God, love of Country and love of Freedom.

In a world where our "governments" have seemingly divided us beyond repair, it is time to unite, mend our manufactured differences and realize that THEY are the common enemy of the people.

On this occasion, I especially would like to reaffirm my love for you, America. Know that there are millions across the world who know the truth, and who know how to distinguish between the rulers who've hijacked your country, and the great people of your nation.

We stand with you in the face of this blatant usurpation, and we know you will succeed in your mission to retake your nation, clean up all your institutions at local, state and federal levels, and reclaim your sovereignty — for your sake, and ours.

May God Bless you, and May God Bless the United States of America.

Your fellow patriot,

Noor Bin Ladin
